of February 27, says :fessors declaring that they will no longer collaborate with this or that scientific institution in England? Science and art have always appeared as the common possession of civilized peoples, and does not one injure one's own people and its science by sitting on the stool of isolation and by breaking off scientific intercourse?

For months we have experienced all sorts of wonderful letter headings and forms of salu ation and similar things which are fundamentally un-German, inasmuch as they are copied from Gallic theatricality. While Hymns of Hate may spring from genuine internal excitement, salutations such as the celebrated "God punish England" are not only fundamentally tasteless and histricaic, but are quite ridiculous, because they propagate a spirit, even though only superficially, which is not compatible with the future cooperation of peoples which, nevertheless, must come to pass again at some time. We are deep in war and we have to collect all our strength to best our enemies, and especially to subdue our wmost dangerous enemy, England : but after the war must follow, peace; which shall rander possible. colm and samued work. This work somet be performed in conjunction with other pany, will be ULOSED from the 16th April peoples whom we cannot exterminate, who will renew their intercourse with us as we shall with them. The war now has been proceeding for seven months, and the end is not yet in sight. But the passions with which it is being waged require purification, since, happily, times of peace are continuous and times of war are only interrup-

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough, It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhaa by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping & bottle in the house.

It is possible that we may shortly see women police in Scotland. When 19 out of 30 of the Chief Constables in the North are in favour of their appointment, it is scarcely for the layman to decide too hastily that the idea is absurd. The policeman of to-day is more a moral than a physical force, but the former might not prove a very compelling influence if the latter did not exist. When the burglar goes a burgling and the cut-throat is occupied with crime, women are not of much use, and of recent years we have had distur ances and lawlessness in the quelling of which women would simply have been in the way. But these Chief Constables bring forward so many instances of admirable work done by such women elsewhere that we need not be surprised if

WHU'S WHO IN JAPAN

The first (1913 edition is already issued, THOGRAPHIES of over 5,000 people D who are well-known in society and of soveral hundred foreigners associated with Japan appear in the book. Quite new materials and accurate aketches, both being uttorly free from projudices. Many portraits are inserted. The book number of officers of cadet corps. contains over 1,400 pages. The price is yen 6 (12/-) or $3 per copy. Orders for the book should be accompanied by payment. Subscribers for the second annual edition of 'Who's Who in Japan' will be allowed a reduction of one yen. The registered postage is 18 sen, to Korea and China 40 sen and to Europe & America 70 sen or 35 cents.

IT IS A GOOD ADVERTISING MEDIUM. Many influential papers of the world noticed this work in the highest terms.

For example, The Daily Mail says .--Yet "another "Who's Who!" and this time from Japan! The reader is apt at first to regard it as a curiosity, as a sign. that the East has now become Western practically almost to the last detail. Who's Who In Japan' is far mere than a curiosity; it is a very sound and useful reference book. It is printed in English and contains brief biographies, on the accepted model of prominent men in Japan. Mr Kurita is a skilful editor and has done his work well. No 5, 1-chome, Uchisaiwaicho, Kojimachi-ku, Tokyc.

MACARTNEY Y. "JOHN BULL! AND OTHERS.

In the King's Bouch Division a libel action against John Bull has been brought by Mr. Douglas Halliday Macartney, in which he claimed damages against John Bull, Ltd., and the printers. Messa Odhams, Ltd., says the "London and China Express."

By the defence it was alleged that in their proper meaning the words coin plained of were true and were fair com-

Sir Edward Curson said that the plaintiff was the son of Sir Halliday Merent ney, who was well known in China lo many years and was afterwards Comcillor of the Chinese Legation in London One of his brothers was a British Conuil of distinction, another was an the Royal Navy, but was at present in terned in Holland, and a third was seve ing in Prince's Patricia's Regiment. The libel was an attempt to throw discredit on the plaintiff's efforts to get cade corps recognised by the War Office. The plaintiff left school in 1008, and we trained to enter the Chinese Cystoms but he was unable to pass the meditests. He had since devoted his whole time and much of his means to philathropic objects, chiefly among boys, an he was connected with many London County Council and other public committees. He came to London with th object of getting cadet corps recognised and also of forming a corps of cadets over 17 years of age to constitute a battalien with the object of training them to be come officers... He had written a letter to the Daily Mail, and in that way had got into communication with a large meeting was held, and resolution were passed. On Oct. 10 last the following appeared in John Bull :-

ANOTHER PATRIOT.

Cadging Por a Cadet Corps.

What a wonderful pack of patriot this war is producing! We have already recorded the exploits of several zealous, gentlemen, who, thinking themselves to superior to join Kitchener's Army, and forming little corps of their own, and incidentally shouting for subscriptions. Another of the kidney is Mr. J. H. Ma cartney, who is issuing a circular from Sutherland House, London-street, Hyde Park, in which he states that he forming a Senior Cadet Battalion for such purposes as the War Office may require the members to comprise youths of 1 years of ago." He goes on to say :-"It is hoped the proposed battalion will be used for foreign service," winding up with the usual appeal, "I should be grateful for small donations towards the expenses which have to be incurred for the organisation." Macartney should shut up shop, return whatever subscriptions he has received, and offer himself as a recruit for the official forces. Such a charge was peculiarly painful in the present crisis... The plaintiff had tried to join the A.S.C. and the Australian and Canadian Field Hospital and other bodies, and had actually enlisted in the London Scottish; but he had failed owing to defective eye-sight. He had offered himself to Sir Ian Hamilton in any capacity. He had trick to get a commission in the City of London Territorials. . He had gone round in a motorcar trying to get recruits, and had addressed public meetings. He first say this libel pinned up on the notice board of the residential club in which he was

The plaintiff bore out this statement. He said that his appeals for subscriptions brought in only 3s. 6d. He was a special constable. There was a strong feeling in the country in favour of the movement. Lord Kitchener was not enthusiastic about it, and Lord Roberts wrote to him on Sept. 29, 1914;-I thoroughly appreciate the good work the members are doing and recognise their zeal and patriotic spirit, but think the idea of forming a special bat talion of those over 17 is a mistake. The best possible course, in my opinion, is for eadets to pass from their corps to the ranks of the battalion to which they are affiliated as soon as they are too old to remain as cadets. In any case, think it is unlikely that Lord Kitchener would sanction such a corps as you propose, as he is averse to the formation of any more special corps. The witness, continuing, said the as spider? I think so, my Lord. thorties did not disapprove; they did not back it up, but there were ways of been. (Laughter.)" getting them to change their minds. Cadets were part of the national forces. Yes, at the time. (Laughter.) He had stried in his circular that it was foreign service. That was not based on evidence for the defence. There

PRIZE* COURT. THE CASE OF THE PARLAT.

The adjustmed application by the Crown for the condemnation of the German stoamship Pakian as a prize of war was heard by the Chief Justice, Sir William Reca Davies, in the Supreme Court this morning. The proceedings were adjourned be enable the owners to produce evidence to show that at the time of her capture the vessel was engaged in a philanthropic misalon, and since the last hearing this had been put upon the file by their counsel (Mr. Eldon Potter). The Attorney General (Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp) instrute d by the Crown Solicitor (Mr. P. M. Hodgson) prosecuted. The Attorney-General said his Lordship would recollect that shortly before the last adjournment it was suggested by the respondents that the opinion of the Law Officers of the Crown should be obtained on the question of the construction placed by the British Government on the parti-cular article of the Hagus Convention which had been referred to in this case. That course the Crown had been unable to follow, but something better had been was that to be immune from capture, philanthropic or scientific mission must be for a purpose unconnected with war. He submitted that in the light of the report of the committee of the Hague exploded. Convention, (put in by the Crown Solictor in the form of an attidavit), the Pakiat had participated in the operations of the war. and it was not entirely for purposes outside the war that she was being used. The extracts from the report were read as follows by the Attorney-General: His Lordship was understood to say was that the fact that this ship, an enemy interning them elsewhere, did not render her immune, because it was not wholly irrespective of the war. "Ship entrusted with Scientific, religious or philanthropic missions are also free from seizure.-The provisions of this article for which as has been seen the Italian Delsgation is responsible, is in conformity with Miss Douglas of the Children's Aid a practice one of the most renowned precedents for which was established by the De La Prouse Expedition. The consecretion of the principle of immunity could hardly raise objections, and was passed unanimously. It did not seem necessary to recall in the wording (of the article)the conditions under which the privilege of the (said) immunity can be granted. It is obvious that such a favour can only be granted only under the condition that there is no imdiers and Sailor's Help Society for the mixion in the war operations. In order to avoid all difficulties the Power whose ship in question bears the colours must refrain from using her into any war service. 'The favour granted to the said ship bestows upon her a sort of neutralisation which and which must prevent her from having her destination altered.

The Attorney General assented and mentioned the point of the egress of refugees ment was received from the passengers. The ship in fact was to be used as a means of egress additional to the Chinese rail ways running from Tsingtau, to other parts time the railway service would be disorganised, and that refugees should have some other means of egress from Tsingtau. At the time the Paklat left Taington there was no blockade of the port. He thought there was no contest on this point between himself and the Crown, and that being the case the matter was covered by the Judgment of Mr Justice Compettz in the case of the steamship. TREATMENT OF SUBMARINE PRISONERS.

LONDON, April 13.

A telegram from Amsterdam states that the German Note to the American Ambassador expresses astonishment and indignation that Great Britain is not regarding aubmarine prisoners as honourable enemies. It says that these officers and men acted as brave men in the discharge of their military duties. The German Government is compelled immediately to execute reprisals and adds: "We can only reject with leathing the insinuation that the German Navy in contrast with the British Navy, wilfully neglected to rescue shipwrecked sailors." The Note requests the American Embassy in London personally to enquire into the treatment of submarine prisoners and says that further proceedings against British officers who are provisionally placed under officers' arrest will depend on the treatment of German prisoners.

STRENUOUS FIGHTING AT BEAUSEJOUR.

'FRENCH TROOPS' SUPERIORITY.

LONDON, April 13, 1.20 p.m. A Paris telegram says that the official Eyewitness describes the German attempt to recapture the redoubt at Beausejour. After a violent bombardment, he says, our lookouts reported that the Germans were massing. Soon our machine guns were sweeping the attacking force, which was composed of volunteers from all the German regiments on this front. Our artillery also having a favourable effect on the defences | immediately came into action. Few of these Germans regained their own trenches. The enemy made another attack, and sustained the heaviest losses Mr Potter in his reply said it had not but got a footing in the advanced trench. GERMANS UNABLE TO AVENCE DEFEAT.

INTERESTING DESPATCH BY "EYE, WITNESS."

Loxpos, April 13. The "Eye-witness" present with the British Headquarters reports "that quiet continues on the British front with the exception of artillery activity diversified by occasional naine explosions, and bombs from airtraft. No incidents worthy of special record have been reported.

"Eye-witness" remarks that it is significant that although a identh' has slapsed since the action of Nanve Chapelle, the enemy has not ventured to retaliate. This does not mean that his resistance is collapsipg, but it is an admission of inability to avenge the defeat with the proops at their disposal.

Evidence is gradually transpiring that the general situation is beginhing to create great anxiety. The Germans are sending away large numbers of the civil population behind their lines, via Switzerland, some of whom, however, have returned to France.

They report that something like panic prevailed at Lille during the fighting at Nerve Chapelle. The large hospitals were all removed to Taurnai, and many of the officers billeted at Lille went to Tomnai to spend the night. Both office's and men expressed their unesiness.

There is a marked change in the demeanour of the German troops since Christmas. Their confidence and buoyancy are gradually disappearing, while many of the soldiers have lately told French civilians that they would be overpowered by the masses of men which England was about to place in the field. At the same time, they tried to persuade the French that the English are bent upon mining France and grabbing everything for themselves.

"Eve-witness" also comments upon flie German efforts to foster among their troops a spirit of hate against the British, although amongst the members of the Government, the official "gang," the military party and the professional class this feeling does" not need encouragement. Libels on our troops are officially circulated, and engender may against us which, acting on natures inclined to britality, finds vent in furious acts of savagery.

BIG MOYEMENT DEVELOPING.

The latest Petrograd communique has been examined carefully by experts. These interpretait as meaning that there is a great aggregation of Austrian and German troops from all quarters, who are making an intense endeavour to out-flank the Russian left and compel the Russians to abandon the advance in the Carpathians by threatening to gut of their communications and over-run Galicia. They have already advanced as far as Strij.

On the other hand, if the Russians are able to defend the left adequately, as turning movement on their right will equally oblige the Austrians and Germans to heat a hasty retreat.

STEAMER ATTACKED BY AEROPLANES. DRIVEN OFF BY CAPTAIN'S RIFLE.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent telegraphs that two German aeroplanes attacked a Cork steamer, the Serula, near the Noordhinder lightship.

The Captain, who was a good ride shor, hit the aeroplanes, which retreated to Zeobrugge.

The Captain is convinced that the smaller of the two aeroplanes fuiled to reach the shore.

THE "KRON PRINZ WILHELM"

WHEN GERMAN CAPTAINS MEET.

LONDON, April 13. The Captain of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm has denied that he obtained gins before leaving New York on August 8, and asserted that he took them from the British steamer Correction which was captured shortly after she left New Aork.

The Captain told a story of the constant anxiety and privation of the from who lived almost entirely on rice, much of which was soaked with sca-water, hence the outbreak of beri-beri, which was chiefly among the prisoners. They captured a cargo of grey cloth from a French steamer, and the crew were dressed in uniforms which they had made from this muterial. The Captain paid a tribute to the bravery of the British steamer Chaschill, which was finally allowed to go after a long chase. Four hundred men and women prisoners were transferred to her. Upon meeting, the Captains of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich and the Kron Prinz Wilhelm embraced each other and wept copiously.

FIELD MARSHAL FRENCH AND THE "GREAT MOVE."

LONDON, April 13. Lord Durham, speaking at Chester-le-Street, said he visited the British headquarters recently, and that Field Marshal Sir John French, in the course of a conversation insisting on the need of munitions, said: "When the time comes to make the great move we can break through the Germans, but we must have more munitions. I want to pound the enemy, and continue pounding him regardless of expense, because thus we are saving the lives of our gallant'men."

ALLEGED THEFT OF COAL FROM TAIKOO DOCK.

The hearing was resumed in Mr Wood's Court this afternoon of the charges against ten Chinese in connection with the theft Mr. Lloyd George's speech at the Queen's of a ton of coal from the Taikoo Dock. Mr Preston prosecuted and Mr Gardiner defended the first two defendants charged with conversion; Mr Dixon defended the third and fourth on charges of receiving. while the remaining defendants, accused of aiding and abetting, were undefended. The first defendant was cross examined by Mr. Preston with regard to his movements as conswain on the Taikoo tug at the time coal was alleged to have been stolen. He remembered coaling on March 17th, but he did not know the quantity. He never looked into the stokehole between March 17 and the day of his acrest; if he had and discovered coal there he

NEWS FROM HOME.

(Eron Our Over Correspondents)

LONDON, March 6.

VULTURES PUNISHED. The indiction of a fine of £250 and costs' on each of two barpies tried yesterday for running a gaming house for the rain of young people will hardly prove severe enough. I have to put a stop to the scandal that has been agitating the minds of farposing people for some months. London als not 'merry and bright' as of yore, but the result is the diversions have been partially turned to subterranean courses.

There are only or two night clubs that ero, at any rate superficially, conducted scopectably, and a good many men and women; and young girls ton, go there to clauce the night away. But to the young exilicers, fresh from the monotony of the campa or the stress of the front, they are but the stepping stones to other kinds of might resorts, and these have often enough turned out their plucked victims poundless after their resources have become exhavated.

The magistrate commented on the fact that in the case before him no definite evidence had been produced to show the rain of such a young officer or he would have sent the principal defendants to pri- The P. M. S. S. Co.'s s.s. Korea arrived at con without the option of a fine. If, however, the fine indicted this time fails to check the greedy activities of these social parantes in a grave time like this, it is likely that Lord Kitchener will take other and more drustic measures to end an intelerable state of affairs.

WITHHOLDING NEWS. Some of the papers have been criticising the Press Bureau very warmly for Acceping back the news of the riot at Singapore until so many rumours had got abroad that ever since Lord Crew has been kept busy in Parliament explaining that it was not a 'holy war or any other fantactic thing.

Again, there appeared in the obituary melumns of the Prusa a week or two back the names of several officers of the Clan Machaughton, the armed cruiser now concurred as lost, and it is well known in shipping circles that wreckage bearing the mame of the ill-fated ship was picked up a fortnight before the Press Bureau felt called upon to make any announcement."

The other day I sent up to the Press Bureau a question as to a very persistent report that a liner had been sunk. I asked whether this was true and, if not, could I publish the fact to allay apprehension. The answer came back "No! in both cases." Then, when any criticism is directed on the Bureau in Parliament, Sir Stanley Buckmaster puts on the sirs of a man attacked in his private honour, which mobody ever thinks of doing, and so the whole thing peters out again. Mr. Bonar Law is probably right in hisidea that after the war inquiries will reveal widespread extravagance, greater than ever shown before, and the evidence in the Meyer timber contract goes to prove it. ...This gootleman has an arrangement with the War Office whereby he is to receive a commission on all timber purchased for put at about £00,000 a year! Yet some of the best men in the trade, men of high standing and undoubted probity, offered their services for love of country only and did not get even the courtesy of a reply.

THE TREMBLING TURK.

Neither Ananias nor Lie Merchants of Borlin have reached the heights of mendacity achieved by the Ottoman newsmongers. The combined fleets have been battering their way through the Dardanelles this week, but from the banks of the Bosphorus there have come wireless official reports of great damage to the Allies, sinking ships and retirement. Six hundred shells are said to have rained on the fortifications without damage to them. while a few strvy shots from the forts have grade the Allies take their crippled ships away for safety. But unfortunately, when the mendacity monger gets into details be is entangled, and in this case the Turk claims to have killed and injured smore green on some of the small ships than those skips ever had aboard. It is all of a piece with the declaration to the ignorant bloslems that the Kaiser was a true Boliever, and the tatterdomalion procession-each member at five pence an hour-which shouted sloud in front of the Germin and Austrian embassies in Constantinople, as an evidence of cordiality among the Huns. As a matter of fact, the Ambassadors made speeches that were not understood by one of the processionists, and the whole thing was a grotesque farce. Who is at the back of all these lies and tomfoolery? Who but our old friend Ber von Kuhlman, formerly Charge d'Affairus at the Embassy in London.

It was told in a London club recently of a successful, if somewhat gloomy, ruse de guerre which was practised last month by one of our slim majors of artillery. Selecting a suitable sergeant to go with him to "work" the telephone for purposes of observation and report while his battery T was englied in shelling a certain position, Fe he decided to creep in among a herd of se pows that were grazing between the battery | at and the enony. Successfully concealed in M this way, their phoned information was so le accounts that the enemy batteries having exhausted all their other attumpts to stop the supply of accurate direction of fire, turned their actoution on the unfortunate crows as the planthis place of concealmeent of the informer. One of their lirst shells Adilled second sown, disembowelling one. Into the thus singued carcaso our agilo major at once preceeded with his telephone, and thur the memory remained outwitted.
